Captivating+Connected

Emcee, Host, Dynamic Speaker, and Audience Connector

Amy McWhirter is a charismatic speaker, emcee, and moderator known for creating meaningful connections and delivering unforgettable event experiences. With a dynamic, approachable style, she brings energy and authenticity to live and virtual stages alike. Her expertise in hosting, storytelling, and content development has made her a trusted partner for global brands across industries such as technology, healthcare and finance.

From volunteering to wrap a boa constrictor around her neck at age 5 to performing in her first dance recital as a bumble bee ballerina to placing second in the National Spelling Bee, she's always known that stage is where the magic happens. Amy choreographs, dances, and performs improv comedy today.

Amy's journey led to earning a B.S. in Biopsychology with honors at the University of Michigan. Although she completed a pre-med curriculum, a passion for theater, dance, improv comedy, and communications ultimately guided her toward a true calling - connecting with audiences through authentic storytelling.

A trusted host for major clients worldwide, Amy has led high-profile events, energized internal sales kickoffs, interviewed celebrities, and hosted award galas and multi-day conferences in locations including India, Singapore, Europe and Dubai. Whether on stage or in front of the camera, she delivers compelling experiences that leave a lasting impact.
