

AMY McWHIRTER

Dynamic | Engaging | Professional

Areas of Expertise

Trade Show Presenter, Host,
Corporate Speaker, Moderator,
Consultant and Event Emcee.

Experience

Information Technology,
Cybersecurity, HealthCare &
Medical, Manufacturing, Consumer
& Professional Electronics,
Construction, Graphics, Government and other industries for corporations and Fortune Global 500's.

What You Get

1. Engaged audiences: Amy consistently draws people in.
2. More qualified sales leads.
3. Skilled communicator: Transforming technical concepts into relatable conversation.
4. An expert: Audiences assume Amy is a subject expert.
5. Polish: Projects your company, messaging and brand with high energy and credibility.
6. Highly Adaptive: Matches tone and messaging to audience.
7. Partner: Custom scripting or work from provided materials.

Make your next event your best event with Amy

Maximize the return on your conference and trade show investment with Amy McWhirter.

Amy's engaging style connects with audiences in a way that generates more qualified leads and increased sales.

Corporate and marketing clients appreciate Amy's warmth, professionalism, credibility, flair for becoming part of the team, and ability to truly engage, empower and connect with audiences.

Amy's ability to take complex technical information and make it understandable, relatable and conversational makes her a hit with audiences and clients alike.

Her skills in improvisation and quick thinking inspire confidence that any unplanned changes in live settings will be handled with ease.

She is a partner to your company's team, working closely to ensure more qualified sales leads, successful events, audience engagement and maximum ROI!

What clients are saying:

"Several times a day our own employees asked me if we hired someone new because she was that believable. If you didn't know firsthand she was a professional speaker you would think she is visiting our customers and talking about our technology on a daily basis."

- Renee Etiopio, Corporate Marketing Manager | INX

"Simply Amazing! That is how I would describe Amy. She is the most professional and fantastic presenter. Her stage presence, her ability to hit the message consistently on target every time, her ability to absorb and learn the technology, and her skills in making script change recommendations for the best message, makes her absolutely unique. I have worked with Amy in two different companies now, and over a number of years. I would highly highly recommend Amy, as I have yet to meet or see any other presenter that is even close to what Amy delivers. "

- Yama Habibzai, Chief Marketing Officer | ScienceLogic

"When it comes to professional, attention-grabbing and consistent presentations for any public venue, Amy is a must have! She has the perfect combination of energy and professionalism that instantly lends credibility to practically any presentation. You really brought my script to life and truly spoke to the audience."

- Mike Guillory, Manager WW Marketing Communications | Texas Instruments

"Amy is amazing to work with. Our company has worked with Amy for several years having her present highly technical medical equipment and software at multiple trade shows. She is a true professional. She was able to easily adjust to our last minute changes and provided excellent suggestions to make our presentations more impactful. Amy delivered multiple presentations numerous times during the day, perfectly every time. I would highly recommend Amy."

- Tom Chadwick, Senior Business Marketing Manager | Elekta

"I have gotten so much positive feedback about you as the host for our live event! And I second that! You looked so natural and relaxed! It was a pleasure to work with you again and great job! "

- Tracy Niehaus, Marketing Manager | Honeywell Intelligated

