

Dana David Joins JB Matteson

We are pleased to announce that Dana David has joined JB Matteson as Principal, Director of Asset Management. Dana will be responsible for oversight of Asset Management of JB Matteson's growing multifamily portfolio. Dana brings 30 years of multifamily management and operating experience, from nearly all facets of the business, to JB Matteson. Dana will report to John Bellack, Co-President and Chief Investment Officer.

Previously, as President of E&S Ring Management Corporation, Dana managed an organization with 350 employees, overseeing the on-site personnel at 37 apartment communities totaling over 9,000 units. Dana helped the 50-year old organization adapt to modern standards in business management, information infrastructure, accounting, government compliance, and human resource management.

Dana has spent her entire career in multifamily management and operations. Dana's prior experience includes Bay Apartment Communities (now Avalon Bay), Trammell Crow Residential Services, and Essex Property Trust. Dana has developed hands-on expertise executing lease-ups, asset takeovers, management transitions, and on-boarding acquisitions.

Dana is active in the apartment industry and currently serves on the Executive Board of the California Apartment Association, State Board of Advisors. She has written articles for the Apartment Management Magazine on topics including training, mold management and marketing. Additionally, she is a three-time speaker at the Rental Housing Conference. Dana attended California State University, East Bay and holds a California Real Estate Agent License.
