

Birds of a Feather!

One of the really impressive things about Cazenovia Artisans is our diversity - so much to see in so many different artistic media. But when you look closely, you can find the themes running through all the beautiful things here. And at this time of year, we like to acknowledge all the ways in which birds are muses for our members.

Marilyn Fegan's bird nest bowls are delightful

Lori Portka's birds have important things to say

Paula Burke has captured a Chickadee as it briefly lands on a berry-laden twig

John Knapp makes lovely toys for children that will last for generations to come

These stemless wine glasses painted by Deb Wester make the perfect gift for wine lovers and bird lovers alike

Shawn Halperin's bird sculptures are now at home among all the other birds in the shop

Vicki Smith make these whimsical bird night lights

No one captures the beauty of birds as naturally and realistically as our own Bob Ripley

The birds have even landed on some of Wendy Edwards' purses!

Marsha Van Vlack's stoneware totems for the garden are topped with birds

Shauna Walsh carves a heron in flight into a glass vase that she first makes by layering different colors of glass
