JUNE 4TH 1874

The War has been over for 9 years and the U.S. Army has moved west to protect against Indian attacks. Law and order has been left to the town marshal and his deputy. Being a small town away from the big city isn't necessarily the best thing when the various Ruffian gangs come riding through heading west.

Saturday, June 4th will be the second Shoal Creek 1st Saturday event of the year. It will be June 4, 1872. Although not the Wild West, Clay County and Western Missouri did represent the very beginning of the frontier on your way west. Jessie James and his Gang were pretty much active but at this time was not in Northwestern Missouri. But we are going to go with a generic theme of a lesser known gang that perhaps was in the area. It was a violent time and small towns often struggled to get by.

We will do a skit every hour on the half hour from 9:30AM until 3:30PM, as we did last year. Each skit will somewhat lead into the next skit, so that we will have a continuing theme throughout the day.

Schedule of Up-coming 1st Saturday Events

SHOAL CREEK SKITS

JUNE OF 1874

All skits will focus on a generic theme of an outlaw gang holds the town in fear. No one, not even the Marshall, will stand up to them, except for one local small rancher.

0930 - There is a new man in town, a lawyer from back east, who is not aware of the town's situation, or how dangerous the outlaw leader is. He gets crossways with him, and pays a price.

1030 - The outlaws ride into town, and once more antagonize the new man in town, the lawyer.

1130 - The outlaws, hired guns by the big cattlemen, terrorize some sodbusters.

1230 - The lawyer gets some shooting instructions from a local rancher.

1330 - There is a town meeting which is interrupted by the outlaws.

1430 - The outlaws rough up some of the town's citizens.

1530 - The final showdown between the lawyer and the outlaw leader.

INFORMATION FOR TOWN VISITORS

As always we want you to come back and enjoy Shoal Creek Living History Museum and tell your friends & family and encourage them to also visit us. Missouri History is our passion and we are attempting to interpret it as best we can and as we learn from our research. We try to share.

Shoal Creek Living History Museum is located in Hodge Park which is in Kansas City just outside of Liberty Missouri. It sits on 80 acres and the museum has 21 structures with 17 authentic 19th century buildings dating from 1807 to 1885. These historic log cabins and homes were relocated from surrounding counties to create a village setting.

The museum has a program each summer in which local Living Historian's fill the town with period correct towns people and bring the village to life for the day. This usually takes place on the 1st Saturday of each month between May and September. Each of the first Saturday events portray a different year and the Reenactors will put on short skits throughout the day that relate to the year being portrayed. The town of Shoal Creek portrays a fictional town but as a fictional town it is still located in Clay County between Liberty and Kansas City.

JULY 2ND, - We will be portraying

July of 1876. Just a few weeks after Custer & the 7th U.S. Cavalry & the Battle of the Little Big Horn in the Montana Territory. News of the massacre is starting to show up in the press & make its way east. The emotions and fear of the town and its citizens are sure to play out into some interesting skits.

AUGUST 6TH, - We will be portraying early August of 1861. The American Civil War has just begun but only Fort Sumter & Bull Run has been fought to date. Out here in Missouri most of Missouri's Sons are in the southern part of the State south of Springfield with General Sterling Price while the Federals are in Springfield. Here in Shoal Creek a Missouri State Guard unit is organizing and preparing to head south to join the fight. How will the Citizens of Shoal Creek react with the thunder of War in the distance?

SEPT. 3RD, - We will be portraying early September of 1880. Lots of excitement in the country with a big upcoming Presidential Election between Garfield & Hancock. Serious issues for the country will be on the table and how will the Citizens of Shoal Creek Lean?

LOCAL MATTERS

NOTICE TO ALL SHOAL
CREEK VOLUNTEERS

If you have items for the next issue of the Town Newspaper be sure to let us know so we can include in our next issue! Deadline for submissions is June the 18th.

Our Re-enactor Coordinator has a tough job and let's not make it any harder for her by joking around during our pre event meetings. Be sure to have all your paperwork up to date & if you using a 19th Century firearm you must be inspected and given the OK before you can participate. Please ask if you're not sure on something.

As always - Safety first! But just as important keep in mind on what year we are portraying and use that when interacting with the visiting public.

TOWN MERCANTILE - Our town has a General Store and its being run by Mr. Chris Stockton. Everyone is encouraged to stop by the Shoal Creek Town Mercantile - Please be sure to see add on front of newspaper in the advertisements section.

We have a new wood worker who has come to Shoal Creek. Kind of a quiet fellow but is set up in the shop right next to the town Church. Let's welcome Randy George to Shoal Creek and go down and check out his shop. So hard these days to get new townfolk with all these ruffians running about causing such a fuss NEWSPAPER EDITORIAL - The Way we see it! - Well it's been 9 years since the war has ended and what has our poor little town become but yet once again we are the victims of two desperate outlaw gangs that seem to come and go as they please. Why dose not the Sherriff stand up to these gangs and do something? We grow weary of all the violence in our town and the constant robberies and other law breaking acts. Is it not Bad Betty who first rose up and started plundering our town just right after the war? And yet no one does anything and still we all cower at the sight of her and her gang when they show up! But now ole Bob Green who rode with Shelby back in the late war has returned and it seems that he has a following and our town is once again caught in the middle. What happens when these two gangs happen upon each other? I don't know but Sherriff we call upon you to do your duty and protect our town so we can grow and prosper and become as big as Liberty or even perhaps the City of Kansas! We must bring peace to Shoal Creek once and for all if we ever hope to prosper and grow!

CLAY CO. AG. & INDUSTRIAL ASS'N.

The directors of the Clay County Agricultural and Industrial Association have decided by unanimous vote to hold one of their unsurpassed exhibition, commencing Sept. 8th and ending the 10th of Sept. 1874. A large and liberal list of premiums will be offered. Said list to be published and circulated immediately. By order of board A.J. Calhoun, Sec. Now that it is certain that a fair will be held, every man in the county who has anything worthy of exhibition should put it in condition. There is in the county abundant material - such as fine forces, jacks, mules, cattle, hogs, sheep, fowls, fruits, vegetables, cloths, quilts, mechanical work, and dozens of other things. All that is necessary to ensure a splendid fair in every sense is for our people to take hold of the matter with interest and determination. - Will they do it. The first exhibition under the Grange influence should be a grand one.

FOR THE LIBERTY TRIBUNE.

Mr. Editor: - a few days since the "Bird and Game Law", enacted by the recent legislator of the state of Missouri, came up, in course of conversation, between two farmers. Judging from their remarks, they thought that the enactment of this "Bird and Game Law", is conclusive evidence that the legislator was "out of work", that it knew not what to do, but that it verily thought within itself that it must do something. In course of conversation one of them said: "in years gone by, it was common among farmers having wheat fields on the prairies, to set up in their fields, in the winter time, wooden straw men to scare way the geese; but now they let the wheat fields take care of themselves, and "set up" the wooden men in the Missouri State Legislator."

All physicians practicing their profession in this county will bear in mind that under the law passed last winter they will be required to register themselves at the county clerk's office before the 1st of September next.

Reports of chinch bugs come from all parts of the state, though their ravages are comparatively light in some sections. There can be no doubt that wheat and oats have been largely damaged.

TESTING THE BRIDGE OVER THE MISSISSIPPI AT ST. LOUIS - St. Louis, June 9. - The first locomotive with a train of three passenger coaches, containing a number of invited guest and representatives of the press, crossed the bridge this evening to test the track which had been just laid. Gen. Sherman, who was of the party, drove the last spike connecting the bridge track with the Vandalha railroad. Maj. Simpson, general superintendent of that road also officiating. The train was run over the bridge several times and about one third of the way into the tunnel on this side of the river. On backing up the last time the train was halted in the center of the bridge and the guest drank the health of Capt. James B Eades, the chief engineer and that of the directors and stockholders of the bridge company. Gen. Sherman and others made brief and appropriate speeches, and the occasion was one of much congratulation and pleasure. Though engineers, several of whom are connected with the roads centering here, were present and were delighted with the structure, which gave no sign or token of weakness. Not even the slightest jar was perceptible. A regular scientific testing of the bridge, with the immense weights and other various appliances known to the profession, will take place in a few days in the presence and under the direction of some of the most noted engineers in the country. The traffic on the upper roadway of the bridge is already assuming large dimensions.

NAVAL CADETSHIP -

There is a vacancy in the Naval Academy to be filled from this congressional district. The candidate must be over 14 and under 18 years of age. It must be filled before 1 July, or otherwise it will be filled by the secretary of the Navy. Applications must be made to Hon. Ira B. Hyde, written and composed by the applicant himself, accompanied by suitable recommendations. Will not some young man in Northwest Missouri compete for the place?

LIVELY TIMES IN BARBOUR COUNTY KANSAS CO., KANSAS

Hutchison, May 29 - the excitement over the fraudulent issuing of $50,000 in funding bonds in Barbour County Kansas is gaining strength. Two hundred armed citizens are in pursuit of the renegade and fleeing County commissioners.

WICHITA, KANSAS May 29. -

Parties from medicine Lodge, the county seat of Barbour County, report that a difficult T occurred there several days ago. The contract had been let to build the courthouse at medicine Lodge and work commenced Tuesday, when the workmen were beset by an armed mob from Stephenson, a rival town, and compelled to desist from their work. The mob consisted of about sixty persons who, after stopping the work on the courthouse, arrested the county commissioners under threats of death in case they refused, and compelled them to resign. Great excitement exists in the community, and the end is not yet.

THE YOUNGERS.

Their funds have run short and they are stealing horses.

Now! What will be done? It is certain - beyond even the least shadow of a doubt - that the youngsters are in this county. They are daily perpetrating robberies and committing all kinds of depredations, openly and secretly. No murders have been committed by them in this county as yet, though we may be called upon at any time to chronicle a bloodcurdling tragedy, in which they are parties to the affair. They are braving the County and state officials. They are the cause of more dread in sleepless nights than can be imagined by persons who are safely ensconced in the large cities, where the steady beat of the police assure them that they are beyond the reach of robbers and assassins. They are causing the good name of the county and state to lose its prestige abroad by making the impression that they are upheld in their lawlessness by our citizens. The people of other states hold up their hands in dismay, and cry "are there no laws in the great state of Missouri?" We answer that there are laws, but the state is controlled by men who have never taken an interest in her welfare, but who have preferred to remain inactive, guarding the treasures in every now and then making appropriations out of the privy coffers to destroy the expenses of some excursion of pleasure, or grand reception or ball at the capital. During this time the people in Missouri are suffering all kinds of outrages. Horses are stolen nightly, massed and unmasked villains right into the villages and plunder and Rob without fear of punishment. We are sure that the people of this state are tired of such affairs, and we are sure that the sheriff could raise as many men as are needed to follow and captured the marauders - if he desire to do so.

Last Saturday night two fine horses were stolen from Mr. James belt, who resides near Napoleon. The thieves are seen and recognize as the younger boys, by man who had served in the southern Army with them. The day previous to this robbery a man was robbed of $1,200 at Camden, Ray County. It is presumed that the man who committed this robbery were the same that stole Mr. Beltz horses. Now that it is known to a certainty that the youngsters are in the county, we wait patiently to see what action will be taken by the county officials to clear the County of these merciless scoundrels - Lexington Register.

TELEGRAPH NEWS

DECORATION DAY - The ceremonies at the national Cemetery, on Saturday, were of the usual kind, but the crowd was much smaller than we have witnessed on several similar occasions. This may be counted for partly in consideration of the intense heat, and partly, perhaps, because the novelty of the thing has worn off. Everything, however, was done decently and in order, and passed off very pleasantly. The procession, but for the fire Zouaves, would have been a failure. At the cemetery the ceremonies opened with music by the band, after which a most appropriate prayer was offered up by Rev. Dr. Prottsman, after which Col. Salomon introduced the orator of the day, Senator M.T.C. Williams of Carroll County. The address, which we publish elsewhere, was very well-timed and appropriate. Col. M.M. Price also made a brief address, which introduces him to the people of his new home as one of the most pleasing and entertaining orators in the city. We listen to the speech route, with great interest, and considered it a very happy effort. It was chaste, classic, and exceedingly well said. There was nothing of politics in either speech, and neither contained a sentence that could wound the most sensitive who were on the side of the rebellion.

Capt. Scherer had performed his part of the program promptly and well. The cemetery was incomplete order; and inviting as could be. The want of shade was greatly felt, but it was no fault of the captains.

BASEBALL - An interesting match game of baseball was played on the Alert's ground, just east of the railroad last Saturday between the Alert's of Trenton and the James Port club. The game had been agreed upon for some time and as public notice had been given, a large number of spectators were present to witness the game. The ladies were on hand with four beautiful bouquets to be given to the four best players, which were awarded, - three two the Alert's and one to the James Port club. Ed Renson received the first, James Guerin the second and W.P. Lafferty the third. In the James Port club the award was made to a Granger. The game was somewhat one-sided although not without interest. The Alert's were successful by a score of 91 to 12. - Next Friday another match game is to be played between the Alert's and Gallatin club, on the Alerts grounded Trenton. - Trenton Republican thunder and lightning, accompanied by a high wind. The rain came down in torrents the whole country was inundated. Fences were swept down, all the streams in a short timer raised higher than ever known before. For about twenty minutes the hell came down to stick guest snowflakes, was washed into the stream began in places banked up several feet high. Farmers driving into bolivar next day, reported that they drove their horses through drifts of hailstones up to their horses knee's. One Saturday evening a citizen of Bolivar took his two horse wagon and drove out to the hell drifts and filled his wagon box with the hell stones to be used in cooling the lemonade for the picnic, which is to be held on the twenty-fifth instant. At that place. The wheat and oats are beaten into the ground, and the crops destroyed. The young apples and peaches are beaten off the fruit trees, and look as naked as in winter. NEWS AT ARMY HEADQUARTERS - Washington - says Comanche and Cheyenne Indians are moving against the whites in general and Texas in particular. - Fort sill is thought to be there first point of attack.

Mr. Comingo, on leave, introduced the following bill:

A BILL. - For the relief of the trustees of William Jewell College, of Liberty, Clay County, Missouri.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the secretary of the treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized and required to pay the trustees of William Jewell College, of liberty, in the state of Missouri, the sum of twelve thousand dollars out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, on account of, and in payment for, the use and occupancy of the college - building, and for the damage of said building during its occupancy, and the destruction of its library and Philosophical apparatus, by federal troops, in the years eighteen hundred and sixty-one and eighteen hundred and sixty-two.

President Grant will meet this week with the Army to be briefed on the current Indian movements on the frontier.

TWO MORE STATES - In spite of all the arguments against the justice of admitting sparsely settled new states to have an equal vote in the Senate with the old and populist ones, it seems impossible for Congress to resist the pressure in favor of the newcomers. The house has passed bills for admitting both New Mexico and Colorado into the union as states. It is not probable that either of them has a population as great as the Congressional ratio, which is about 135,000. By the senses of 1870, Colorado had only 39,864 inhabitants that year, and is not reasonable to suppose it has habitants in 1870, and has increased but slowly cents. If the Senate should pass the house bills, there are two territories will come in with one member of Congress in two senators each, though without a population large enough to entitle them to the one member of Congress.

THE THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT - Col. Coleman, the "old daddy Granger," in a public speech last week, counseled the Grangers as an organization to let politics severely alone. He pointed to the fact that the regulations of the national Grange expressly forbade the consideration of politics. In concluding his brief remarks upon political topics the speaker said:

"Stand by your colors, my friends. - If you're Republican, vote the Republican ticket; if you are a Democrat, both the Democratic ticket. Some people talk about a third party springing up, the result of this Granger movement. They charge you, my friends to beware of any such claptrap. It is all a political trick, gotten up by political hackneys. Start a third party and you'll find its ranks filled by every eyesore and outcast from the two great political parties of the day. No, my friends stand aloof from politics, so far as your connection with the Grange is concerned."

At the conclusion of his address, the assembled multitude gave three cheers for Col. Coleman.

In another address of Col. Coleman at a different point he said:

"Republican farmers will attend Republican conventions with sufficient numbers to nominate the men of their choice, and a third party movement would have to please the masses, and could do no more - for their demand is for good men. Farmers belonging to the Democratic Party will attend Democratic conventions, and see that the best man in their ranks are nominated. Could a third party do more then put forward their best man? There is, then, no necessity for third party. Why undertake the Herculean in an certain task of disrupting two political parties to put into power a third-party, when the masses of both parties intend to do all that a new party possibly can do? - We had better fight in ranks with which we are familiar. We now know our men. We know whom to trust and whom to fear. But, if we get a conglomeration of both parties, or all parties, we may not know certainly our men - for long observation has shown us that bad man, disappointed man, defeated aspirants, are the very first men to embark into a new party movement, with the hope to better their fortunes."

A HOLIDAY. - Washington, May 26. -An executive order was issued today to close the several departments of the government on the 30th inst., in order that the government employees may participate with the grand Army of the Republic in decorating the graves of the soldiers.

The new ten cent note is already notoriously unpopular. Its resemblance to the fifty cent note is leading to many mistakes.

CROP REPORTS. - The national crop reporter of Saturday publishes information in relation to the growing crops, of which the following is a synopsis: the area sown in wheat last season in the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin is estimated in round numbers at 13 and a half millions. The reports of correspondence makes the increase the present crop year 1,367,753 acres, or a total area of 14,812,344 acres. The yield of a good average season approximates in the states mentioned thirteen and four fifths bushels per acre. At this rate the yield in the states at harvest will be a fraction less than 200,000,000 bushels. The present condition of the growing week being a full average the probability of a harvest approximating the amount mentioned is very good. The area seeded in oats in the same states in 1873 is placed at 4,527,000 acres. - The increase this year is estimated at 159,000 acres, or a total of 5,687,000 acres. At the average yield of a good season, say about 33 1/2 bushels per acre, the total crop at harvest in those states will approximate 190,000,000 bushels.

The Chicago Tribune says first-class journeymen carpenters in that city who were employed a year ago at $3 a day, are now glad to get a dollar and a half; and adds that this decline in the wages of labor runs through the whole scale of employment.

The next Inauguration Day, March 4, 1877, falls on Sunday, so that the presiding officer of the Senate pro-tem will be president of the United States from Sunday midnight till Monday at the hour on which the president is sworn in.

MISCELLANY

TERRIBLE ENTANGLEMENT. - I married a widow who had a marriageable daughter. My father, who often came over to see yes, took a fancy to my stepdaughter, and married her. Thus my father became my son-in-law, and my stepdaughter became my mother said she was the wife of my father. Sometime after word my wife had a son, he was the brother-in-law of my father and also my uncle, as he was the brother of my mother-in-law. The wife of my father - my stepdaughter - also had a son; of course this son was my brother and at the same time my grandson, since he was the son of my daughter. My wife was my grandmother, since she was the mother of my mother. For myself, I was at once the husband and the grandson of my wife, and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather, I was my own grandfather.

To make ice in summer - fill an earthen bottle was boiling water; put into it eight grammes of refined saltpeter, in 20 grammes of Florentine iris; then, after corking it strong, place it into a well of water, as deep as you can, and let it remain in the well water two or three hours, at the end of which time the water contained in the bottle will be frozen. Draw out the bottle crack it, and you will have a lump of ice. - Brookfield Gazette

MAXIMS FOR A YOUNG MAN.
 Never be idle. If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind. Always speak the truth. Keep good company or none. Make few promises. Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets, if you have any. We speak to a person will come in the face. Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue. Good character is above all things else. Never listen to looser idle conversation. You had better be poisoned in your blood than your principles. Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts. If anyone speaks evil of you, let your life be so virtuous that none will believe him. Drink no intoxicating liquors. When you retire to bed, think over what you have done during the day. Never speak lightly of religion. Make no haste to be rich if you would prosper. Small and steady gains give competency with tranquility of mind. Avoid temptation to fear that you may not withstand. Never run it debt unless you see a way to get out of. Ever borrow if you can possible avoid. Be just before you are generous. Keep yourself innocent, if you would be happy. Save when you are young, to spend when you're old. Never think that which you spend for religion is time or money misspent. Read a portion of the Bible every day.

A CHAPTER ON MANNERS

Fortunes in the presence of the poor or those less fortunate than you are.
 Is vulgar to talk about yourself, and it is very low and vulgar to live.
 It is bad manners to stand in the middle of the pavement when people are passing, or to make remarks about those who passed.
 Is bad manners to spit on the floor or carpet, or spit at meals, and yet many people who think they are genteel do it. If you must spit at meals, get up and go out. Children ought to be taught at school that spitting is mere had it.

DEFERENCE TO LADIES

In a work, how to behave, says: "in the rudest regions of America, were not only a lady, but any woman, enters a railway carriage, some man rises to give her a seat. On a Mississippi steamboat no man is allowed to sit down at the table until every woman is seated. Front seats at public entertainments are the same price as back ones, but they are "reserved for ladies;" and when all passengers pay the same price the most elegant carriages are, by common consent, also reserved for ladies - that is, for all females and their attendants. The same rule prevails in hotels and everywhere. More deference is shown to women, and has been, in America, then in any other country in the world."

Among the notable things at the depot, in Kansas City, the other day, was a traveler accompanied by his family consisting of wife and 23 children. On entering the car he found it necessary to carefully count them, to see that none were missing. That man ought to have been given a free transportation for self and his little family.

Somebody is meddling with the nomenclature of the states. It is proposed to drop off "New" and leave Hampshire alone, "North" and "South" are to be abolished and the Carolinas can draw straws for the choice of Carolina and Columbia.

The next St. Louis fair will begin Monday, October 5 and continued through the week. Forty thousand dollars in premiums will be awarded. The St. Louis Cotton Association will offer additional premiums to the amount of ten thousand dollars.

THE CONFEDERATE DEAD
Unveiling a memorial statue in Mobile. [From the mobile cor. New York Sun, April 27] The memorial exercises in honor of the Confederate dad, held here today were witnessed by the entire community. A beautiful statue was unveiled. The orator, the Rev. B.M. Palmer, of New Orleans, delivered an appropriate address, and just as Admiral Semmes was about to unveil the statue, Col. Wickersham, postmaster, who was a federal soldier during the war, stepped forward and presented the Admiral with a beautiful wreath of flowers in the shape of a circle and cross, accompanied by the following touching and appropriate note:

"This floral offering is tendered with the kindly in sympathetic readings of surviving Federal soldiers,, resident in Mobile, who honor the brave and horrid dead of the late war, and desire your acceptance of the same as an humble tribute valor and unselfish devotion to a cause held dearer than life. Fresh be the memory of those under the sod."

Admiral Semmes accepted the floral offering in a neat and appropriate address, after which the statue was unveiled amid peals of artillery from the guns kindly loaned by the federal authorities for that purpose.

Another pleasant incident of the occasion was the following touching and acceptable offering:

"April 27, 1874.- From the officers of the United States Army stationed at Mount Vernon barracks, Ala., to the Mobile kid that's, as a mark of respect to the memory of their gallant dad, and in recognition of their mini and generous actions in contributing to the decoration in the national cemetery at Mobile Alabama, on 30 April 1874."

Everything passed off delightfully. All the military and fire companies and societies participate.

CROPS FOR PREMIUMS

Col. S. D. Harris, in a recent communication to the Buckeye farmer says: the common practice of farmers who compete for premiums at the agricultural fairs in the fall, is to put off all concerned in the matter until a few days before the fair is held and then if they had anything which is extra good in the way of a farm prop they will select a sample and take it to the fair. This is not the way they should do such things as there is no practical credit due to a man for an accidental good crop. The real object of premiums is to stimulate people to work for them; it is a very bad motive when a man competes for prize only that he may win the money which is offered; he should strive, not so much for the mere object of taking the premium asked to show what can be done in the way raising crops by trying for it in earnest. And now is the time to begin; think of this while you are plowing the land, while you are putting in the seed, why you are attending the crop, and at the time of harvest it will be no small gratification, that you took would aim at success and hit the mark. It seems that every well directed effort of the Farmer's arm in the days of seedtime, is an act of faith and prayer, and that the like, in time of harvest, is an active praise and thanksgiving. Then, whether you take a premium or not, you have achieved success, which is better.

ALWAYS REMEMBER - That decayed teeth, Carter and diseased gums cause derangement of the digestive functions and consequent derangement of the whole system. The presence of decayed teeth and roots, ulcerated or I'm supporting gums, and tartar on the teeth vitiate the secretions of the mouth and cause irritation of the mucous membrane of the stomach, or dyspepsia. The offensive, poisonous exhalations from the mouth so diseased have an injurious effect on the lungs, and in many instances is the exciting cause of consumption.

TRAVELING ON A FARM. - Did any of your readers ever think of the amount of travel it takes to raise a crop of corn? I never saw an illustration in print, and I thought I would give you one. I have a twenty acre field, forty by eighty rods. To break this up would take one hundred and sixty six miles. Harrowing it, about forty miles. Furlowing out, ninety miles. Planting, forty-five miles, if with a planter; and if dropped and then covered, ninety miles. And for each plowing of two furrows in a row, ninety miles, or five plowings, four hundred and fifty miles. Thus you will see, it takes about eight or nine hundred miles of travel to raise twenty acres of corn, not counting going to and returning from the field. Besides there is replanting, thinning, rolling, etc. - Indiana farmer.

THE CHAMPION BABY OF ST. LOUIS
 Probably the happiest man in the whole city just at this time is Mr. Henry Schenck, who resides on Market Street, near Summit Avenue, and whose wife presented him, on Sunday morning last, with a bright and beautiful daughter weighing twenty-one and a half (21 1/2) pounds! This is certainly the "heftiest" addition that has been made to the census in many a year. - St. Louis times.

ARE DEBTS TAXABLE? - The question whether debts are taxable has occasioned much discussion, and it is claimed that a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, on a case taken up from Georgia last year, settles the matter. The following is the syllabus of the decision:

No. 123. Walker vs. Whitehead. - Error to the Supreme Court of Georgia. This was an action on a promissory note, and it was dismissed because it did not appear that certain taxes (chargeable on all debts) had not been paid on the debt. This court reverses the judgment, holding that the act imposing taxes on debts by the state is unconstitutional, as impairing the obligation of contracts. Chief Justice Swayne delivered the opinion.

In 1874 our flag has 37 Stars and Ulysses S. Grant is President of the United States. It is still a time of reconstruction since the end of the war which was only 9 years ago.
