

Engedi Refuge works in collaboration with many social service agencies in order to find appropriate help for our clients and survivors of sex trafficking who are seeking help. Engedi is also helped and funded by several local businesses and Christian Churches as well as many generous individuals. We are very proud of those who have invested their time, trust and resources to make Engedi the successful program that it is. Listed below is just a sampling of our local partners so you can get a feel for who supports and networks with Engedi.
