

Atlanta Knights 1995-96 pre-game warm-up jersey, size XL.

These sublimated polyester jerseys were worn during the pre-game warm-up at home games at the Omni during the Knights final season. The manufacturer's name, Keybec Sublime, is found on the neck tag and around the neckline. A large oval AC Delco advertisement adorns the lower back of the jersey. The team logo and numbers were printed and not sewn on the jersey. The number 95 probably signifies the year as I do not recall anyone on the Knights wearing the number 95. It appears to be new and unworn. I purchased this jersey on eBay but this jersey likely originated from The Hockey Gallery as they purchased all the Knights jerseys after the team folded.
