

Atlanta Thrashers Rich Peverley 2010-11 game worn jersey, size 54.

Rich Peverley was claimed off waivers by the Thrashers in January, 2009. He played in 39 games, scoring 13 goals with 22 assists, earning a two year contract extension. In 2009-10, Peverley played in all 82 games, scoring 22 goals and racking up 55 points. In February, 2011 he was traded to the Bruins, mercifully before the sale of the Thrashers, where he achieved the ultimate for an NHL player, having his name engraved on the Stanley Cup. This white Reebok Edge 2.0 set 2 road jersey was one of the last jerseys Peverley wore as a Thrasher. It has the embroidered Thrashers logo sewn on the front, two alternate logo patches sewn onto each shoulder, sewn two color twill numbers and player nameplate with two color twill letters on the back. Just above the nameplate is the sewn on embroidered Reebok logo. The neckline also has the embroidered NHL shield and the row of yellow arrows. It is the perfect complement to the pair of game used gloves I own from the same season. It was purchased directly from Meigray.
