It's Time to Listen to Your Bible Lesson

When we think of building a home, we think of building a big building with everything in it that makes us happy. In a home filled with people who serve the Lord, there should be love, peace, comfort and safety.

King David wanted to build a house for the Lord, but the Lord had other plans.

The Lord promised David that one day he would have a house. But God's plan for David's family was greater than the plan he had for David. God made a promise that after David passed away one of his children would become king and build a temple or house. The house will not have four walls. This house will be a dynasty. God will make his kingdom strong forever, and his rule will last forever. Through his family's descendants.

Questions

1. What did the Lord promise David he would have one day?
2. Who would become a King after David died?

Lesson 2

2 Samuel 7:4-17

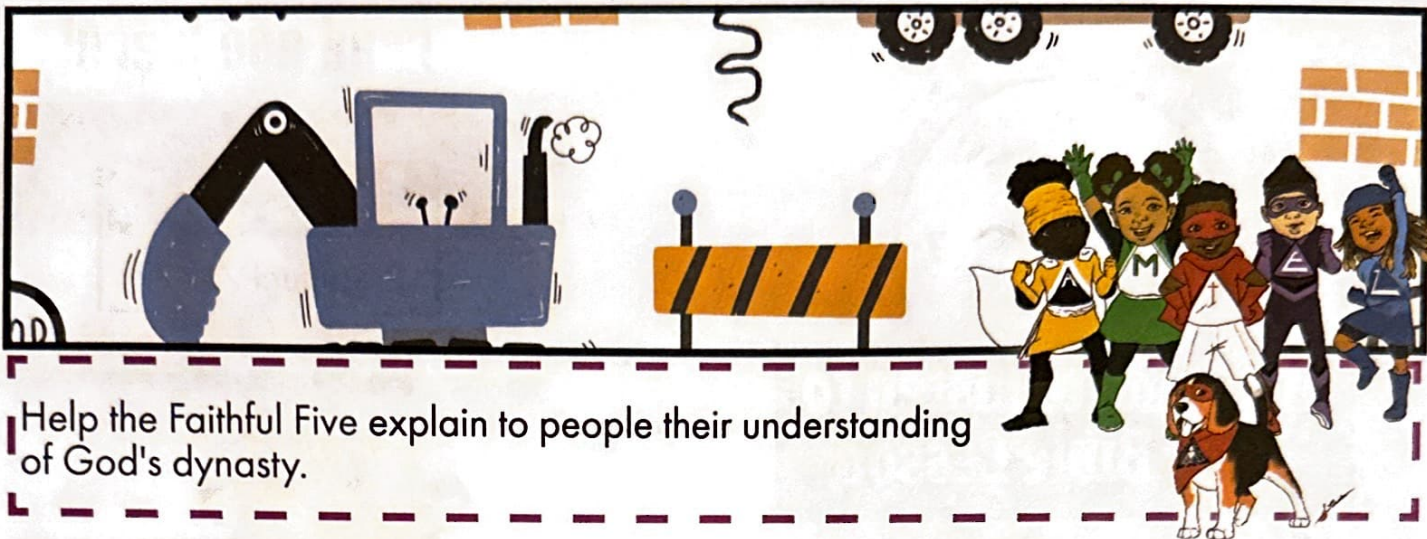

God had a special plan for David and his family. God had plans to build David's family and from it bring about the Savior of the world, Jesus Christ. Through David's family, God built a home that will last forever. God's promise is a reminder that He does need us to build God's building. God want us to be built up.
