Me&Mama is about a young girl who spends a rainy-day alone with her Mother. They eat together, comb their hair together, take a walk together, and do other enjoyable things with each other! The book illustrates the girl's relationship with her mother, and shows how much she admires and adores her.

I enjoyed the simplicity of this book about the special relationship between a mother and her daughter. The book talked about how mother's love was brighter than the sun, even on rainy days. I also really liked the illustrations and watercolor art style used for the story! I thought it was interesting how the story compared the mom and daughter's things based on colors, shapes, etc.

I recommend this book for children ages 4 and up! I think most children would be able to understand and enjoy the book, and the illustrations definitely help make it more enjoyable for younger kids. This book would be good as a gift for someone or just something to check out from the library!
