

Hiding Glory

Laura Chester

Reviewed by: Dani Wong, 16

Star Teen Book Reviewer of Be the Star You Are! Charity

www.bethestaryouare.org

Turner Flint resides in a small home with her mom and big brother. Unfortunately, she finds herself down in spirits as summer vacation comes to an end. One day, Turner stumbles upon a delicate blue horse while going through the various toys in her bedroom. This magical blue horse is named Glory, guardian of the morning glory vine.

Glory and Turner venture to the enchanted town of Joya. Turner is in awe as she meets the unique creatures of this new land. Among them are a beaver, talking flowers and even a queen. Everything seems perfect. However, Turner soon finds out about the Kermudgins. These horrid beings always find a way to ruin the fun. They oppose happiness and delight. They are also very controlling and self-centered. Turner soon finds that the Kermudgins are going to invade her newfound secret haven, Joya...

This charming book is perfect for parents to read with their children, as both parties will find themselves equally entertained. It includes wonderfully descriptive language, making the text very enjoyable to read. There are also captivating sketches throughout the story to give the reader a visual interpretation as the key events unfold.

I recommend this book to anyone looking for a whimsical, yet powerfully engaging story. Your interest in this amusing tale will grow as the plot thickens. This well thought out, witty story gets nothing but praise from this reviewer.