

Genocide: Great Crimes Against Christianity Pt. 1

After the Ottoman Empire fell at the end of World War I, it only made sense to finally return the city of Istanbul (formerly known as Constantinople to the Christians of the Greece and the Eastern Roman Empire) to the nation of Greece. The Hagia Sophia was the St. Peters/Vatican of Eastern Orthodox Christianity and perhaps the most impressive architectural accomplishment of all time. It was the first time ever a dome was built upon four square walls. While still impressively standing today, and the fact that it was built back in the 6th century, makes this building the most remarkable architectural accomplishment in the world to many of its admirers. Most notably, the fact that Istanbul lies on the land west of the Bosphorus Strait (the Greek side), and the remainder of Turkey lies on the land to the east, only makes sense for this land to belong to Greece.

Was not Greece allied with the West? Allied with the (Christian) nations who won the war? Well, considering the Western powers to be Christian nations is far from true, despite their general populace comprising a large Christian percentage. The true power which emerged from WWI was the World Zionist Congress who sent 110 representatives to the signing of the Treaty of Versailles; by far the largest representation. Furthermore, these same Jewish powers, headed by the Rothschild family (owners of the Bank of England) and other International bankers, implemented Communism/Zionism/Marxism in Russia during the year of 1917. Following the institution of the new Russian government headed by the all-Jewish Bolsheviks, a massive genocide against Christians was commenced. Over 200,000 church clergy, including almost every Priest in Russia was either crucified, tortured to death, or sent to a Gulag camp where there to they'd eventually perish.

Eventually, the ruined Russian economy and workforce would be built-up by none other than Wall Street bankers which transformed Russia into the industrial powerhouse required to defeat the Nazis in WWII. This was followed by the genocide of Christian in almost every Eastern European nation. Henceforth, at the ending of WWI, the world Jewish community, now in control of Communist Russia and the National Banks of the Western countries, were doing everything they could to eliminate Christianity. Subsequently, Constantinople would remain in Turkish hands. They would prevent the Hagia Sophia, the capital of Greek/Eastern Orthodox Christianity, from being reunited with Greek Christians. Sure, the Western nations were more aligned with Vatican City and the Pope than with the head Patriarch of Constantinople who was presently forced (and still does) to reside in a small run-down building in close proximity to the Hagia Sophia. Nevertheless, this is a disgusting example of Western powers not defending other Christian peoples.

Not to mention, the Greek Genocide would now be commenced as Greek Christian were either rooted from their homes or simply murder in the lands now called Turkey, the former Anatolia where Christians lived in peace for many centuries, even millennia. Furthermore, have you ever noticed the official term regularly utilized is the Greek Genocide? How come it's never referred to as a Christian Genocide, because this was truly what it was? Let's call it the Greek Christian Genocide.
