

Death and Insurance Guidelines Information

The following Information will be general information that may apply to most of our members. None of these are a guarantee of benefits nor apply a guarantee of benefits to anyone. Please use the following information as a starting point for You, Your Spouse, or whomever may need it when the time comes. Having everything in one place should help in the roughest of time to help or remind them of what may be available so that a claim can be made. A tab will be added to the bottom of this page so that this information can be printed out and put it in a safe, file folder, hand on the refrigerator or where ever it will be remembered or can be found to help out in their time of confusion and need. Remember ONLY a Legal Guardian, Someone with "power or attorney" paperwork on file or the actual spouse or parent can make inquires or file for these benefits. During the recent loss of one of our brother, this information was put together to assist the widow. Some we knew about, others came as a complete surprise. So please pass this on to those that may need it
