

Working Effectively with Different Styles Using DiSC (T3)

Duration: 2.5 - 4 hours

Overview:

What is the key to a successful workplace? Communication! This engaging, interactive workshop provides strategies and techniques to recognize and understand different communication styles for a more productive work environment. Participants will assess their own style, learn how to recognize other people's style and discover how to flex their communication to maximize productivity and reduce workplace conflict. This workshop provides practical tools that can be used immediately.

Topics:

- Understanding the four different styles
- Style assessment
- Reading other people's style
- The differences between styles
- Exercises to practice communication with different styles
- Common clashes between styles
- How to flex your style to decrease conflict and improve understanding

Participant review:

"This workshop and facilitator/Annette were an "11"! Not only was it fun, but I learned so much about how to work better with different styles. The Ice to Eskimos exercise really drove it home. I look forward to trying new things with co-workers. I highly recommend this course." Project Manager, Technology Firm
