

2013: Luangwa, Zambia

Saturday, November 30, unspecified but probably on nighttime

Source: reported to MUFON on Friday, December 13, 2013

The main street of Luangwa

Am not the actual viewer but got a call from my cousin whilst they were looking at these lights. Am reporting this on behalf of a dozen people who encountered these flying objects. It was in Luangwa area and people in the area say it's not the first time there encountering the lights in the sky. A month before they saw the same lights in the sky. These lights were just hovering and when they tried to capture them with their cell phones the objects couldn't be seen. Numerous people were seeing these lights in Luangwa. I thought you might be interested and take a look into the matter.

Notes: lights were shaped like a cylinder and flashing
