

1974: St. Cyrille de Wendover-Quebec, Canada

June 25, round 1:15 am
Source: Wido Hoville, Jean Roy,
Marc LeDuc and P. Blaquiere

Sketch of the humanoids

Site of the event, today

Mr. & Mrs Langlois had just returned from a vacation. Hearing a “bum-bum-bum” noise, Mr. Langlois looked outside their trailer home and saw a reddish object hovering just above the ground. He went to wake up his wife and then, while hearing a buzzing sound, they saw a humanoid being (about 15 feet tall) from the window. Both went into the living room, where they saw outside 3 more ‘stiff moving’ “beings, 6’ tall, like robots” examining an unoccupied nearby trailer. During the next 3 hours, the couple saw at one time at least 15 of these entities, lined up parallel to an adjacent creek. They held this formation for more than 5 minutes, then all moved at once. The object was domed, with red and white lights on the top, and with orange lights circling the base. It released yellow beams of light onto the ground. The figures were described as having brightly red glowing horizontal bars, like toasters elements, across their body, and displayed no visible facial features. They appeared to “float” above the ground rather than walk. No footprints were later found, but investigators discovered and photographed 3 sets of tripod imprints, presumably left by the craft, on the far side of the creek. Grass in these areas was swept in “nest”. When this grass was removed, they say it grew twice twice in length if compared with the nearby grass. Several flat pieces of a “strange substance of white color” similar to plastic pieces were found where the “robots” had been seen.

Reliability evaluation:
high

something leaving marks was really spotted;
possible military crew with reflective jackets;
craft and occupants of unknown origin

