

A Fall Classic

We finally had a day that allowed us to get our makeup race in, as well as the regularly scheduled event.

Six racers came ready to do battle and enjoy the competition. Skip brought his pieced-together racer that flew well, but he had to make a quick run to Harbor Freight to get some five-minute epoxy to glue his landing gear back on during warm-ups. They stayed on for the whole day.

Skip tagged John in minor mid-air without significant damage to John's plane. A little packing tape had him back in the next race.

Tim hit the North pole, destroying his racer and knocking him out of the next heat. He came back with his electric prototype, proving that the plane would be fun to fly and very competitive.

Charging Charlie's nick name changed to "Two More Laps." He couldn't get his planes to keep pace.

Thanks to all the members who helped with the races today. Our next race is scheduled for November 03rd. Rain Date Nov. 10th.
