PASTOR'S PAGE

Things sure are different – yes? This is me personally, but after a little more than a year of walking into the building to serve as your pastor, we have had to face one thing after another. Just as we were getting into a groove together, the pandemic took place and (as you know) everything changed.

Now that it appears we are in the post-pandemic world, how do we operate? It is clear that, in many cases, we cannot go back to the time before the pandemic. We must move forward. What? But, at the same time, that is what the church does and has always done in the past. We face one challenge trusting that our God through the Holy Spirit is leading us.

That does not mean we will always like or appreciate what is happening. We will not like the way things are being done, but the question we will need to ask is this, “What is God doing here?”

I ran into an old newspaper clipping of a letter that was sent to Billy Graham in which he responded to the writer who was commenting on something being done differently than this person was accustomed to having done. I will be honest, if I were to change the names and not tell you where I got this article from, you could think it came from an article that appeared in a recent edition of the Citrus Chronicle. Look at this:

Dear Rev. Graham: Maybe I'm just old-fashioned, but from time to time our church's music director introduces new songs into the service, and I don't care for them. I like the old hymns and wish he'd just stick to them. Should I complain to our pastor?

Response from Rev. Graham: I know this has been a controversial issue in many churches, and I don't pretend to have all the answers, especially since I'm not particularly musical! But we have a singing faith, and God has given us the gift of music to praise him. The Psalmist declared, "With singing lips my mouth will praise you" (Psalm 63:5).

Instead of complaining to your pastor (or anyone else), I urge you to ask God to help you be grateful for all music that points us to God, new or old. No, you may not like some of it, but others do, and God can use it in their lives to encourage them and bring them closer to Christ. Remember: The old hymns you like were once new, and someone probably didn't like them, either!

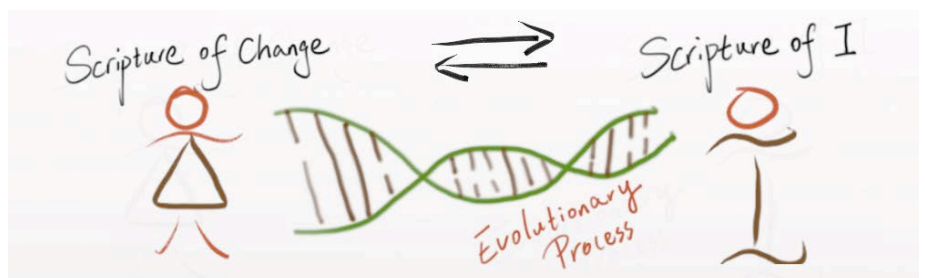

Sometimes, I'm afraid, a hymn can become so familiar to us that we sing it without even thinking about the words. But this is wrong, because then our singing becomes empty and meaningless. Don't let this happen to you, but meditate on the words of the songs you sing, and even turn them into a prayer.

Your music director has probably been wise to introduce new songs slowly; completely changing everything all at once can be disruptive. Pray for him and encourage him, letting him know that you're grateful for his gifts. Yes, let him know you appreciate the old hymns, but support him also as he seeks to reach a new generation through music.

This month, we go to one service which will take place at 10:00 AM. We will return to the 8:30 and 11:00 schedule we normally use in a couple of months (I think). Ooops! There is another change. We also have quite a few new faces around here. They bring hopes and dreams for the future with them as well. Why not say "hello" and "welcome". Perhaps you could invite them to join us for coffee hour as well?

Now that we are walking into the future – and as followers of Jesus – we walk into the future following Jesus. Let's look, listen, and try to understand where it is that the Holy Spirit is leading us.

Deacon's Corner

I would like to share a thought or two for you to think about over these summer months.

Most of us have been around awhile and we come from different cultures and faith backgrounds.

So, what we tend to do is base our giving of our time what we knew to be the best way to serve God in His Church while raising our children or holding down full time employment. Well, what we knew and what we know now are different spectrums that may have worked in the past but do not fit as retired congregants.

Our dedication to the Lord is not in question. The question is: why we do not help at all? It is wonderful when you walk into Good Shepherd because the doors are open, the Sanctuary is ready for us to worship, the Communion table is set, bulletins are stuffed and given to you, the coffee pots are brewing, the necessary cleaning is done, and the goodies are on plates ready for us after worship not just once on a Sunday but twice!! WHO DO YOU THINK DOES ALL OF THAT FOR US?

As we get older, we tend to feel that we have done our time and it's time for us to Worship on Sunday and that is enough. Well, good people, it's not enough. There must be something in the church that you can do to help those who continue to give their time and talent. You need not be a leader.

Just be a volunteer for whatever time you can give where you have a comfort level. There are many people who work from home and use their talents that way. ASK around to get information or call the church office to inquire.

Let us pray,

Heavenly Father,

Bless all our congregants at Good Shepherd and we ask the Holy Spirit to waken everyone's "time and talent" as we serve You for Your people. We ask this in the Name of the Risen Christ.

Amen,

Deacon Robert

Applying Bible Principles

As we have seen over the past several months, total stewardship includes time, talents and treasure. All of these are on loan to us from God who desires us to use these resources for the sake of the Gospel here at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

Most churches need more people to get involved in the work of the ministry. Our church is no exception. But what should be the method by which we seek to alert people to the opportunities for Christian service? What should be the method by which we seek to recruit and enlist folks in this endeavor?

There are several possibilities:

- We could publicize the needs in the Sunday bulletin or newsletter.
- We could send a special mailing to members and friends of our congregation.
- We could ask the pastor to personally call on potential workers.
- We could create a video presentation by which we could visually describe the opportunities for service.
- We could contact a national consulting firm that specializes in recruiting people within a local church.
- We could post signs throughout the building.
- We could hang a large banner on the outside of the building.

There may be merit in these methods, and we do several of these. But the primary way we are to recruit workers is found in Matthew 9:38 and Luke 10:2:

We are to ask God to send forth workers for the harvest field.

On the surface, that seems so simple and straight-forward. We are to pray and ask God to provide the workers needed in the harvest field. But frequently, when there is a need for workers, we forget to pray about that need or we do so only as a last resort. It's as though we say to Almighty God, "Oh, Lord, we've tried everything else, so now in desperation, we are asking You to provide the people needed for this ministry."

James 4:2 gets right to the point when it states, "You do not have, because you do not ask [God]." We fail to get our needs met because we do not ask God to meet them. This is true in every area of life, including the provision of workers in a church like ours.

Why don't we pray about this and other needs? Could it be that we really do not believe that God will keep the commitments promised to us in the Scriptures? Could it be that we have concluded that God's promises are for another time, another place and another group of people? Could it be that we somehow think we are sufficient for the task without God's enabling grace?

Will you be one this morning who resolves, by God's grace, to first and foremost ask God to provide the people needed to carry on the work and ministry here at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church? And will you make yourself available to be part of God's answer to that prayer? Will you answer His call to service?

Evangelism

Evangelism team met on May 2, 2023.

We discussed the possibilities of the team to be the greeters at both services. Unfortunately, 2 out of the 3 volunteers are away for the summer. We will do our best to start over summer Worship schedule to greet. This does not include handing out bulletins or ushering.

I mentioned what a blessing it would be to have more volunteers come to the meetings to see what we, as Lutherans, mean by Evangelism. Next Evangelism Meeting is on June 20, 2023 at 10:00am. Respectfully submitted,

Deacon Robert

Social Committee

Members of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Hernando recently donated medical supplies to the Doctors' Free Clinic of Citrus County. Many members of Good Shepherd found that they had excess supplies left over from a hospitalization or home health care, so the Social Committee put together a drive to pull all of those medical supplies together to be shared with those who cannot afford these types of supplies. Thirteen boxes of supplies were delivered to the Doctors' Free Clinic of Citrus County which provides free medical care to those unable to afford it. On hand to receive the supplies were Dr. Jeffrey Wallis, President and Director of the Clinic, and Tito Rubio, Administrator of the Citrus County Department of Health and a Director of the Clinic. Special thanks to the Social Committee for sponsoring this supply drive!

Craft 'n Share

We will meet next on June 28th from 10 AM to 2:00 PM. Bring your lunch and a beverage. We meet every month on the 4th Wednesday of the month. JOIN US.

Last month, we finished 10 eyeglass cases from men's ties and sorted ties into 3 bins, one of which are all polyester that can be made into lap robes for nursing homes. This will be a good Fall project.

This month we will start making teddy bears for next year's Baby Shower. We have two types. We will make washcloth teddy bears (no sewing involved). We can also cut, sew, and stuff cloth teddy bears.

We can also assemble pillowcase dress kits from precut elastic and bias tape using our supply of pillowcases. We have participated in this project for 15 plus years.

We mailed off 3 boxes to "Little Dresses for Africa Project" in Rockland, Michigan where they are then shipped to Africa or where needed most. The boxes contained 45 dresses and 10 washable fabric sanitary pads so young girls remain in school when commercial items are unavailable. We will continue to make these dresses. We have pillowcases, elastic, and precut wide double fold bias to make kits for those who like to sew at home. We thank Judy Wood, Sharon Toe, and friend for making these.

We gave out several prayer shawls or lap robes in the last few months to members who have lost a loved one or someone who was hospitalized. We appreciate our home crochet or knitters for keeping us supplied. We have directions for knitting or crocheting these and lap robes. If you know of someone who could use a prayer shawl or lap robe or for directions to make one, call Maggie.

THANK YOU to all the cooks who provided a variety of delicious soups for the Lenten Soup Suppers and those who helped with set-up and clean-up.

THANK YOU to those who have brought in cakes on the first Sunday of the month. Look for the sign-up sheet on the counter to volunteer to bring one.

THANK YOU to Joe Adams for cleaning all the kitchen floor mats. That was a challenging job!! Let's all of us try to keep them clean.

REMINDER: For those who have activities with food snacks, please remember to wipe off tables used and the center island. This also applies to the coffee hours as well. We want to prevent ants getting into the kitchen.

PLEASE NOTE: We will be starting in June and July with one church service at 10 am. There will be one coffee hour following the service. We will alternate Sundays between the usual first coffee hour volunteers and the second coffee hour volunteers. Sign-up sheets for volunteers will be on the coffee counter.

As you start to think about the September Tag Sale keep in mind that we are not taking: furniture, TVs, outdated electronics, DVDs, VCR's, VHS movies, cassettes, and clothing. Please bring items in a clean condition. If they have been stored, check for bugs in cardboard boxes.
