PASTOR'S PAGE

It is now the beginning of June. It is Summer and we have (in the Church) entered into the church season of Pentecost. Life is happening. The days are longer. The temperature and the humidity are going up and up. The trees, bushes, and grass are getting greener. And, you should notice that the color we use in the church is “green” and will remain so until this fall. There are birds, squirrels, rabbits, and lizards everywhere! Life is happening. Everything seems to be moving.

So, how's your summer looking? A little break from the busyness of life? A little space for some reading and reflection? Some time away? Time away on vacation? A little more family time? Maybe you are planning on some time spent visiting family? Maybe you plan to spend more time outdoors?

I thought I should point out that the two big seasons of the church year which we just completed which focused on the person and work of Jesus, now give way to the implications of those events for the life of the Church. The focus of the readings we will hear in worship will be how the Church lives out its calling. The season of Pentecost calls us to proclaim, bear witness to, and live out God's ongoing will for the world God so deeply loves. The Church knows and believes in its very bones that salvation is bound in and of a love for the world, not an escape from the world.

This summer most of our Gospel readings will come from the Gospel according to Mark. The Gospel of Mark portrays Jesus and his ministry with urgency, focus, and a relentless drive forward to ensure that the kingdom of God comes among us. It is important to try and remember that. Because our world sees the world differently and tries to sell us on its plan for life. For instance, I offer a couple of tidbits as food for thought:

Self-care has rightly received increased attention in recent years and can involve all the ways an individual can tend to body, mind, and spirit. Scripture includes some self-care in the command to remember the sabbath. This practice is not limited to the self, however, as the command is also for one's children, colleagues, resident-alien neighbors, and livestock. The sabbath is both self-care and community care. How might this passage speak to care of both self and community care for families? For congregations? For youth sports leagues? Corporate offices? Other gatherings of human community?

You might, also, consider that we live in a world of intense measurement. Smart watches can track all manner of fitness and health data. We receive surveys so the businesses we visit can track and measure their performance and processes. Perhaps your electric or water bill gives you a comparison to your utility use over the past year. Social media counts of "likes" and "follows" seem to measure how well our thoughts and pictures resonate with other people. Job figures and productivity numbers count people's participation in the workforce in various ways. Jesus tells us that humankind was not made for the sabbath, but the sabbath for humankind. Likewise, humankind was not made for metrics, but metrics for humankind. Sabbath is an important reminder that we are not our productivity, nor is our identity in our work.

What are you watching? Twenty-four-hour access allows us to binge-watch an entire series without missing an episode. The same is true of the news. We can watch the same content again and again if we like. This access also provides opportunities for us to connect and share with others who have watched the same shows.

In Mark's Gospel the religious leaders were watching a show they have already seen. People in need of help are present in the synagogue, and they know that Jesus is going to respond. He does as they expect, and they begin to conspire against him. Who are we binge-watching with suspicion? Who do we gossip about and otherwise criticize? Who do we conspire with as we set ourselves against one another? How does Jesus' response about what is lawful on the sabbath speak to our watching and our responding?

Maybe ask yourselves who or what runs your life?
On whom or what, do you depend?

Pastor Dennis

Church Council News

The Council met on May 9th and approved the following items:

- Approved $100.00 to the Pinelands Conference.
- Approved a request from the Citrus Hills Women's Club to use our parking lot from 9:00 to 10:30 to collect donations for several Citrus County charities on a nearly monthly basis through March 26, 2025.
- Approved the Spanish Language Church to hold a fundraiser for their mission trip. They will be selling empanadas and pork kebobs after our worship service on June 2nd.
- Approved Patricia Howard to become our new Financial Secretary due to Cheryl Cox moving out of state.

In other news: Since the Council has the fiduciary responsibility for the church funds, it was decided that the Council will be responsible to do the money counting on Sundays. That process started on May 4th and once all Council members are trained and comfortable in the process other volunteers will be able assist in that process. We want to give a huge thank you to that small, dedicated group of members who have been doing this important task for several years. You all deserve a break!

Council President's Message

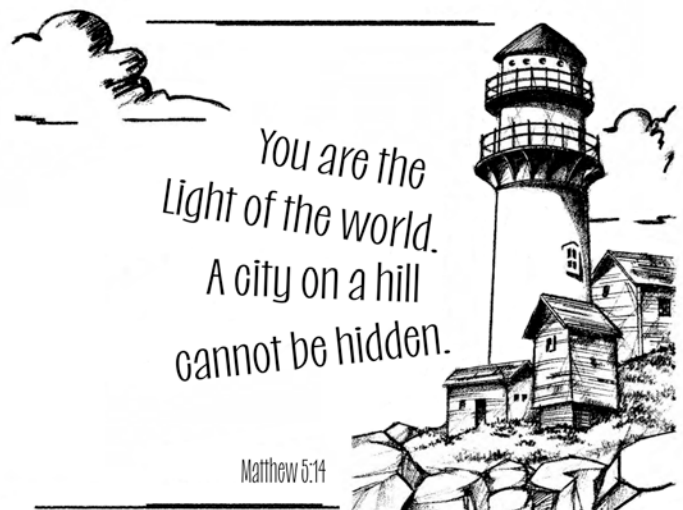

At our May 9th Council meeting, we had the pleasure of meeting Pastor Nicole Eastwood, Assistant to the Bishop of the Florida-Bahamas Synod. Pastor Eastwood discussed the pastoral transition process in detail. I know everyone is a little anxious about the thought of Pastor Koch retiring, but I want to assure everyone that I am quite certain we will have an Interim Pastor by the first Sunday in August.

I been asked by so many of you about the Call Committee and why it has not started yet. We are following the Transition Manual throughout this entire process. There is plenty of work for me, the Council, and certain Standing Committees before the call process can begin. Pastor Eastwood confirmed this in her meeting with Council. I expect to have a Call Committee named and approved by the Council soon. Per our Constitution and Bylaws, we are allowed six members to serve on the Call Committee and they cannot be members of the Council.

I want to close by thanking all of our volunteers. I am seeing new faces on some of our committees and a renewed sense of enthusiasm. One example is the Evangelism Committee. For several years, we did not have any members on it, not even a Chair. At their May meeting, we had a full room so much so that we had to get extra chairs! Thank you all.

Grace and Peace,

Joe

MANY THANKS ONCE AGAIN

On behalf of the SOS food pantry, I send heartfelt thanks to the wonderful congregation at Good Shepherd. Whenever we ask – you deliver. We had a successful tag sale in Beverly Hills at Our Lady of Grace Catholic church and most of the credit was the result of your generous contributions. We managed to raise $1136.00.

Your generous hearts warm ours as we continue to serve the needy of Citrus County. So far this year in only four months we have distributed over 147,000 pounds of food. Needless to say, our clientele are very grateful.

Thank you once again, and remember that monetary donations are always welcome and needed.

A SHORT STEWARDSHIP FAQ

WHAT STEWARDSHIP IS NOT

- Annual drive to balance the budget and pay the church's bills
- All about money
- A committee no one wants to be on
- A committee that you're on because you didn't speak up soon enough to be on one of the 'good' committees

WHAT STEWARDSHIP IS

- The definition of steward is "one who manages another's property, finances, or other affairs". Stewardship, then, is the careful and responsible management of something entrusted to one's care.
- Whose property are we managing? God's of course, because everything we have, everything we see, everything we are, comes from and belongs to God.

Stewardship encompasses:

- Being stewards of God's grace – spreading the Gospel
- Taking care of creation – concern for the environment, caring for animals
- Taking care of each other – feeding, clothing, housing those in need, advocating for health care and mental health care
- Taking care of the congregation in a non-physical way – volunteering on committees and for projects
- Taking care of the church's physical property
- Managing the church's finances in a responsible way
- Managing our own finances in a responsible way that gives God the first fruits of our labor (tithe) as a response to God's generosity
- Using our spiritual gifts to serve God
- Managing our time in such a way that we give God our first fruits – attending worship joyfully rather than begrudging the time we can't be golfing or going to lunch.

And...(with credit to PDK) have fun doing it! Because Christ is risen! Alleluia!
There is no greater cause for joy!

Your Stewardship Committee

WELCA NEWS

As a community of women created in the image of God called to discipleship in Jesus Christ and empowered by the Holy Spirit, we commit ourselves to grow in faith, affirm our gifts, support one another in our callings, engage in ministry and action, and promote healing and wholeness in the church, the society and the world.

WELCA's Board will meet on Tuesday, June 4th at 11 AM. There will be no circle Bible study in June. However, on Tuesday, June 18th, we will host a "Getting to Know You" tea. There will be refreshments and all women of Good Shepherd are invited. A signup sheet is in the narthex, or email me at sthennessey1@charter.net if you're coming. We'd love to see you!

We will be taking July and August off and will resume in September with our regular Board meeting and a Bible study on Katie Luther on Tuesday, September 17th. Please join us.

We got a few ideas from other WELCA groups at the Pinelands Conference in May and one thing we're considering is bi-monthly or monthly luncheons at an area restaurant. If there is something you would like to see WELCA do – a particular Bible study, more social time – or if you'd come to WELCA events if only we changed x,y, or z – please tell me or any of our Board members. They are Anne Storan, Secretary, Aagot Green Treasurer, Maggie Bregger, circle co-chair, Nancy Gomes, circle co-chair and Cindy Gaertner, projects.

Evangelism

All Are Welcome!

“We need to get more members!” “We need kids! Kids are the future of the church!” These are sentiments expressed at many churches these days and Good Shepherd is no exception. But how do we let visitors know that we’re happy to have them? How do we make new members feel part of Good Shepherd? How do we make sure that visiting children and their families have a good experience worshipping with us?

At the May evangelism committee meeting, someone mentioned the book Becoming a Welcoming Church, by Thom Rainer. (This book has been provided to all Council members and copies are on one of the shelves in the church library. Everyone should read it. Of course, as is usually the case with books like this, not everything applies to Good Shepherd. But enough of it does that it is a very worthwhile read.) This led to some discussion about our own church and the need to see ourselves through the eyes of a first-time visitor. When was the last time you introduced yourself to someone new? (New people need to feel welcomed by everyone!) Would you be willing to sit with a visitor to help them navigate the service? (For non-Lutherans, liturgy might as well be in a foreign language, let alone all that sit-stand-sit-stand.) Have you invited someone you don’t know well to sit with you during coffee hour to chat and get to know each other better? We on the Evangelism/Outreach team are asking these questions to help us understand the kinds of things we often don’t think about, but need to remember. Thom Rainer wrote that there are what he calls gospel realities to the welcoming church, especially with non-Christians. When people are seeking a church, being treated hospitably can make all the difference in their feelings toward our church, maybe all churches and even God.

Let’s practice hospitality!

Craft 'n Share

We will next meet WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 2024 from 10 AM to 2 PM. Bring your lunch; beverage and dessert will be provided. This will be the last meeting of the summer and will resume in September. However, many can continue at home on projects.

HELPERS ARE NEEDED!! We will continue working on cloth grocery store shopping bags and will assemble or sew pillowcase dresses for the Little Dresses for Africa project. We have a large supply of donated pillowcases. We have instructions for those who like to sew at home

We were given beautiful floral drapery fabric that WE HOPE TO MAKE INTO GROCERY STORE BAGS to make available to congregation. By using a cloth bag, we will save more plastic going into landfill, ultimately into our water supply, and the ocean!!

Thank you to our home crafters. We gave out several prayer shawls to bereaved families.

Contact Maggie if you need 4-ply yarn. We have directions for other knitting or crocheting patterns for lap robes, shawls, and baby hats. If you know of someone who could use a shawl or lap robe, please call Maggie.

Questions? Call Maggie Bregger 352-860-2215
