AS WE GATHER

I knew you, I consecrated you, I appointed you,” the Lord said to Jeremiah. By His Word the Lord called young Jeremiah to be a prophet, even though Jeremiah did not think he was capable. The Lord provided what Jeremiah lacked, touching Jeremiah’s mouth and promising to be with him to deliver him. When we gather for worship, God’s Word comes to us. During this Epiphany season, coming as it does on the heels of Christmas, we are reminded that God’s Word ultimately comes to us in and through Jesus Christ. In the Gospel, Jesus speaks, and a demon is cast out; Peter’s mother-in-law is healed. Jesus, the Word made flesh, fulfills what God promised to Jeremiah. Jesus, the Word of God, invites us to speak of Him with our mouths and in lives that bring hope and healing to others. For by water and the Word in Baptism, God has said to us, “I know you, I consecrate you, I appoint you.”
