

Sunday Sermon – What I need, When I Need It, God Provides

February 23, 2014

Guest Speaker: Rev. John Sensbach

This is my Credo and has served me well for years. Since making the decision to trust God in a personal way. I was reading a spiritual book a friend showed me and I saw this following quote and it resonated as true in my soul, “Whoever has God, wants for nothing, God alone is enough.”

I want to clarify that in no way is it my intent to imply that ALL MY WANTS are constantly met. But I have learned from the Crucible of life that GOD IS FAITHFUL! To give but one example: While my mother was still alive immediately after my parent’s divorce; We sat down and prayed a prayer of agreement, and were prompted to make out a grocery and NEEDS LIST. We told no one outside our immediate household about that list. The following late afternoon The Old-school door-bell rang. When I answered the door, no one was there,

HOWEVER, There WERE Boxes, and bulging bags at our door. And (you got it) EVERYTHING that was on our list was in my driveway in those parcels!

This forever changed my perception of the Goodness of God! Scripture instructs us that God gives us the desires of our heart. (Psalms 37:4) But when you are in genuine need, and follow your own personal Prayer of Faith, God miraculously provides YOUR NEED, See how you react! Gratitude can be one of our fondest allies. So if God has been good to YOU express your gratitude! Just saying . . .I would encourage anyone who reads this to “Check it OUT” Adopt your own personal way of observing the tithe. You CANNOT OUT give God. And if you are a hoarder and fear based person, there is no U-haul attached to the hearse. Namaste!
