

HARVEST BEGINS...

By: Fountain Hendricks

Galatians 6:7

Have you ever wondered when you will receive your harvest? Have you ever asked yourself, when is my time coming? When will I receive my just due from all the good things I've done?

After planting good seeds and sowing your time, energy and effort into people and places the expectation of receiving your harvest can weigh on you heavily.

God does not schedule your harvest like the time on a clock. It is IMPOSSIBLE to predict when your harvest will arrive because it is NOT subjected to time. However, it is possible to know the CIRCUMSTANCES in which your harvest will arrive.

YOUR HARVEST BEGINS WHEN YOUR CURRENT SEASON ENDS!

Your current season is whatever circumstance you are currently in RIGHT NOW. It could be an active relationship, working a job, taking care of a family member, building a business, etc.

Whatever you DO in your current circumstance is a seed. The words you say, the actions you commit, the kindness you show, the vengeance you take, the evil things you do, the honor you give, the selfishness you display are seeds that are being planted into your future. In other words, NOTHING you do goes unnoticed.

EVERYTHING IS ACCOUNTED FOR!

Every person will REAP what they've sown. Galatians 6:7 says, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

LET'S BREAK IT DOWN

When something ends, something NEW begins. This is how sowing and reaping works. For example, if you are dutiful, punctual, humble, respectful and work in excellence at your job your boss may NOT appreciate you. He may not acknowledge you. He might not value you. Your co-workers may persecute you.

It may seem like your goodness is in vain. However, because of the cycle of how sowing and reaping works you will NOT receive your harvest WHILE you are still planting. All the goodness you planted will sprout up when you LEAVE that job and enter a NEW season.

Remember:

YOUR HARVEST BEGINS WHEN YOUR CURRENT SEASON ENDS.

Everything you've sowed at the last job, you will reap in your new season. God did not forget about the good things you've sowed nor did He forget about the bad things you've sowed. Galatians 6:9 says, "And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

WHAT IS YOUR "DUE" SEASON?

Once again, your due season has nothing to do with the time on a clock. Your due season is the moment you enter your NEXT season. Everything that was done in the old season will sprout up in this new season (circumstance).

This is why the word of God encourages you to continue to do good and righteous acts because God is teaching you to make your latter days better than your former days. By CONTINUING to do what's good and righteous you will attract blessings to your future rather than misfortune.

You are ALWAYS preparing for your next harvest. What you do today will determine what will happen tomorrow. Your future is NOT planned in your mind. It is being shaped by the actions you do NOW.
