

20 Wisdom Ways

20 ways to honor a person in authority

By: Fountain Hendricks

- When an authority figure ask you to talk about a problem don't complain...EXPLAIN. Explanations exhibit honor.
- When an authority figure seeks your opinion don't talk about the problem...provide a SOLUTION.
- People in authority HATE mediocrity. However, they LOVE excellence. People in authority look for someone to bless. Work in excellence.
- People in authority respect followers. However, they REWARD leaders.
- When a person in authority grants you ACCESS to their personal space it's a gift.
- People in authority are desperate to find people who will OBEY their instructions. Listen and comply to the instructions of people who sit in seats of authority.

- People in authority HATE rebellion. It is the sign of disrespect.
- Serving people who are in authority will QUALIFY you to be blessed by God.
- When people in authority can TRUST you, they will invest in you.
- People in authority despise UN-GRATEFUL people.
- People in authority love PROTEGES. They hate parasites. Become a teachable person and people in authority will love you.
- Only people who sit in places of authority have the power to bless you. The blessing flows DOWN.
- When you SUBMIT to a person in authority you will be favored by them.
- When a person in authority gives you an instruction to follow they are testing the content of your character. Instructions EXPOSES character.

- Authority figures like people who talk. However, they love people who LISTEN more.
- People in authority have the vision of an eagle. They look down to see who needs to come up. If you are focused on going up you will be NOTICED.
- People in authority want you to follow them WHILE leading others.
- People who sit in the seats of authority love individuals who ADD VALUE. They hate people who add problems.
- People who are in authority ADMIRE individuals who are ASSERTIVE. They promote people who work in excellence.
- When you learn how to lighten the load of the person who sits in the seat of authority YOU will SOON be placed in an authoritative position.

For more wisdom go to www.thewisdomstore.com