

Blueprint For A Broken Heart

Lyric by: Martin H. Samuel shot down in flames crashed and burned paid the price in lessons learned took a turn – turn for the worse now I'm free as a bird praying that our love survives I may not get out alive had the final say I'm not smiling anyway

it's a blueprint for a broken heart blame it on my foolish pride
I'm gonna run and hide
blame it on my selfish side
blueprint for a broken heart feels like I could die

a total wreck the tears they blind the twisted metal of my mind had to do things my own way now I'm on my own today hoping that our love is sound your kiss of life would bring me round had the final word my laughter is seldom heard

blame it on my foolish pride
I'm gonna run and hide
feels like I could die

when I went wrong the world carried on without me without we too but I would not last very long without you baby without you

blame it on my foolish pride
I'm gonna run and hide
yeah feels like I could die it's a blueprint for a broken heart ... it's a blueprint – blueprint for a broken heart
