

Count On Me

Lyric by: Martin H. Samuel going solo is a lonely road the world can be a heavy load if you trip and fall I'll put you on your feet give me a call count on me when the world defies you everyone denies you everything hurts you everyone deserts you then you'll see you can count on me count on me in every way count on me for ever and a day count on me when you're feeling small and life don't add up to much at all count on me for the special things count on me I'm waiting in the wings count on me if you're lost and lonely I'll be your one your one and only solitaire is an empty feeling if you don't care for the hand they're dealing down to your last chips you'll see a winning streak don't call it quits count on me when the world neglects you everyone rejects you everything destroys you everyone annoys you please believe you can count on me

count on me if you're sad and lonely

count on me in every every every way count on me for ever and a day
count on me if you're sad and lonely I'll be your one - I'll be your one and only
