

WINTER
2011

D EAR FRIENDS,

Experience the Joy!...

When you become a part of On Target, you'll quickly discover that it's about much more than just hunting, it's about sharing life. As much as I love the outdoors and find great satisfaction in passing on my knowledge of the sport, the lasting joy of this ministry happens when I can make a connection with a young person and receive an opportunity to make an investment in his or her life. Then, over time, a more organic friendship happens... It's what mentoring is all about!

An example of this is a recent text I received from a student, one of those moments when I'm grateful for how I get to spend my days. The message(s) read as follows:

"I never thanked you for taking me out hunting this morning. Thank you."

"I'm just thankful I have you to take me out and being there for me. I just never really told you that but I thought about it while I was hunting this morning and how it was just Thanksgiving."

"...I look at getting a deer as just a bonus to a great year in the woods with some great people. Well just thought I should tell you that..."

There are so many young people who need positive adults to pour into their lives. Mentoring isn't complicated, it's about caring, sometimes it's as simple as a quiet morning just sitting together in the stillness.

The list of kids and teens wanting to be a part of On Target is ever growing, and I believe there are just as many adult mentors, waiting in the wings, whose lives could be changed by becoming a part of On Target Outfitters.

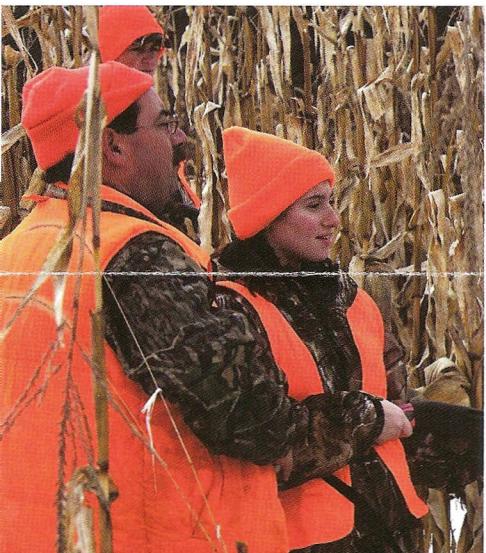

As you look ahead to a new year, consider increasing your own joy, consider what it could mean in your life to mentor someone else- you'll receive so much more than you give. Oh, and did I mention, every time we get together, we have a blast!

Come be a part of the fun,

Steve Scott

As the year comes to a close, your generosity can make a difference...

We are passionate about mentoring young people in sport, in life and in faith. As a 501(c)3 non-profit organization, our ministry is made possible by the generosity of people like you.
As you prepare to make your year-end contributions, please consider On Target Outfitters. Your donations help us change lives one student at a time.

Merry
CHRISTMAS

Blessings and joy to you and your family during this holiday season!
