A Prize Cake

Jennifer and her mother always baked chocolate cakes for the town festivals. This year was no different. The festival was in one month. Jennifer and her mother were planning to make the best chocolate cake ever in their life. They tried to make their cake with fresh sweet chocolate. They also tried using bitter chocolate. Jennifer liked the cake when they used sweet chocolate. They also tried to make different frostings.

The first frosting was vanilla and thick. It was hard to spread it on the cake because it was so thick. The next frosting was not so thick. It was much easier to spread evenly on the cake. It looked much nicer when they finished frosting the cake.

After they made two cakes, they asked their family to come and taste the cakes. They wanted their family to tell them which cake they liked the best. Their father decided that they liked the chocolate cake with the thick frosting. Their brother and sister decided they liked the chocolate cake with the thinner frosting.

Jennifer and her mother tried one more time and came out with the perfect chocolate cake. They were finally ready for the festival. Jennifer was sure that this year they would have the best chocolate cake at the festival.
