

Name: _____

Date: _____

Satoru's Idea

Satoru is a high school student in Tokyo.

Last summer, he went to Canada to study English for six months. He made many friends at his school in Vancouver. His friends there did something interesting. They made a school newspaper every month.

When Satoru came back to Tokyo, he told his friends at school about the newspaper. They said, "Let's make one for our school!" They asked their teacher, Mr. Ito, about it. He said, "That's a great idea."

Ten students wrote about things for the first school newspaper. They wrote about their teachers, the school clubs, and the school events in Japanese. Satoru's friend Kenta wrote about the school lunches in English. Mr. Ito made 300 copies of the newspaper. Satoru and Kenta gave the newspaper to all of the teachers and students at lunchtime. Everyone enjoyed reading it. In the second newspaper, three students wrote about their families in English. Satoru was happy.

1. How long did Satoru stay in Canada?
  - a. For one week
  - b. For one month
  - c. For six months
  - d. For one year

2. Every month, Satoru's friends in Canada
  - a. made a school newspaper
  - b. spoke to him in Japanese
  - c. read the newspaper at lunchtime
  - d. wrote e-mails to his Japanese friends

3. What did Kenta do for the school newspaper?

- a. He gave newspapers to the student's families.
- b. He made copies of the newspaper.
- c. He took pictures of the teachers.
- d. He wrote about the school lunches.

4. All of the teachers and students

- a. liked reading the school newspaper
- b. bring their lunches to school
- c. will go to Vancouver next year
- d. want to make their own newspaper.

5. How many students wrote in English for the second school newspaper?

- a. One
- b. Three
- c. Five
- d. Ten

6. What did the students NOT write about?

- a. school lunches
- b. the teachers
- c. the clubs
- d. the weather

7. Where was his school in Canada?

- a. In Ottawa
- b. In the capital
- c. In Vancouver
- d. In Quebec