Good Evening. At Centennial Tools Incorporated, we want the best for all our employees. That includes providing special benefits for those who are parents. We are therefore proud to announce the opening of our Centennial Headquarters Daycare Center. The center includes a playground, outdoor water fountain, and a 3 - meter fence to safeguard the children. Shortly, Janet Long, head teacher at the center, will be telling us about how it will be run on a daily basis and the curriculum involved and the activities children there will be able to enjoy. After her, Sean Sanders will talk about our plans for the long-term future of the center before Betsy Ross and John Tyler from human resources give you details of how you can apply to have your child enter the center.
