Woman: Hi Chris, are you ready for your new responsibility as manager of the Dorchester Branch? That sure will be a change from our Manhattan Office.

Man: I don't know if I'm ready, to be honest. I've never worked in Boston before, and I've only just begun to learn English.

Woman: Don't worry too much about that. All the office staff there are pretty fluent in English.

Man: Maybe you're right. Still, I want to learn English as quickly as possible. So, I've enrolled in an online university course. I log on at work every lunch hour.
