Editors Letter

Valentines Day
Friday, February 14th

Presidents Day
Monday, February 17th

Well Punxsutawney saw his shadow, so we have six more weeks of winter. Just in time for a small winter storm by us. It is amazing how just crossing town or driving for an hour, how the weather can change. Leaving for work from my hometown, there was barely any snow. I arrived at work an hour later and kids are playing on the snow hill. They were building snow castles and sledding down the pile of snow from the plow. It also always seems to snow when you have to travel, never when you're having a lazy Sunday. Which reminds me, our Sunday was not lazy. After spending a few hours on Saturday working on our dishwasher, we thought we had it fixed. Sunday morning proved us wrong. So, we spent part of Sunday looking for a dishwasher. So many to choose from and with lots of options. Everything nowadays hooks up to your phone or is pretty much like owning another computer. Just what I want to do, is start my dishwasher from work. We did finally settle on one and hope for it to arrive in a week. Todd and I do not mind hand washing dishes, it is just that we do not have a dish rack, so they are like Jenga dishes on the counter.

This auction was a true celebration of American ingenuity, whimsical artistry and craftsmanship. This one even more so than the last!

The three days unfolded with a diverse selection with appeal to a wide range of collectors. This auction was selling from the superb collections of the Nau-man, DeFino and Monteleone families and others.

This first session was one of three and had 600 lots with a vast variety of toys! The total of the three days had a total of over 1,600 fresh to market lots from long held collections.

Advertising Coca-Cola took some of the top honors right along with Petroliana, Soda, Whiskey and more. Other great pieces like gunpowder tins and kegs, tobacco displays and tins, Western items and air rifles.

Rock and Roll memorabilia for music fans and collectors to enjoy, along with gambling, arcade and coin-op.

"When buyers say they want fresh, that's what we should offer them. We did just that with soda machines, transistor radios, railroad lanterns and signs, more windup and BO toys, pedal cars, bicycles and motorcycles, barbershop, furniture, lady head vases, decorative items and much more!!
