

THE BRIDGE

March 1st 2022

Dear Client,

I am writing to inform you of exciting news, which will unfortunately impact your health care at The Bridge Medical Clinic. I am expecting a baby in May 2022 and will be on maternity leave for a year. I understand the challenges with having provider turn-over so rapidly.

I have been actively recruiting for a replacement while I am on leave but this has proved quite difficult to find. The job posting will remain up, in the hopes a Nurse Practitioner will be available to cover part of my leave.

In the meantime, access to care is available through the Bridge Medical Clinic Rapid Access providers who are more than happy to assist with your care.

Should you however decide to find a new primary care provider at a different clinic, a copy of your confidential medical records can be released to you, or the new clinic upon your request. If you need an updated list of available clinics in the area you can check at <https://www.findadoctorbc.ca/>.

Please remember that if you receive any investigations or consultations while I am away, you should ensure to follow-up on the outcome of these encounters with a health care provider at The Bridge or with your new provider.

It was a pleasure to get to know everyone and I look forward to catching up in a year.
