

Western NC Mountains' Gem MAGGIE VALLEY CLUB & RESORT

Any trip to western North Carolina to play golf can be a pure delight, and finding the perfect spot to enjoy not only the course but the amenities of the resort makes it very special. Golfers from throughout the country are finding that exact situation at Maggie Valley Golf & Resort.

Beginners and even the most seasoned players will find the 6,500-yard course a unique challenge, while highlighting some of Western North Carolina's most spectacular scenery. Year-round golf is always amazing at Maggie Valley with North Carolina's temperate climate and the course's native foliage and 30 acres of fairways.

Maggie Valley is unique to other North Carolina golf resorts, resting between the Blue Ridge and Great Smoky Mountains at about 3,000 feet of elevation. Players can warm up at the front Valley Nine or undertake the challenging Mountain Nine, which features an elevation rise of 800 feet and panoramas of the valley and beyond.

Adding to the allure of their mountain-style championship golf course, Maggie Valley Golf & Resort members enjoy full access to world class amenities including a heated pool, hot tub, tennis courts, driving range, a short game practice area, walking trails, yoga and fitness room. Avid outdoorsmen appreciate the close proximity to numerous hiking and biking trails, fishing, rafting and zip-line adventures.

If you Stay and Play at Maggie Valley Club & Resort, they have luxurious, spacious onsite accommodations and vacation rentals that offer the ultimate in deluxe comfort - certain to make your stay a comfortable one.

Accommodations are adorned with designer furnishings and feature a fully equipped kitchen, dining room and an inviting living room with gas fireplace, a sleeper sofa and cable television; 2- or 3-bedroom, 2-bath condos offer private balconies and golf course views.

Try the Maggie Valley Lodging Suites complete with a king-size bed in the master bedroom and a queen-size bed or two twin beds in the second and third bedrooms.

Once you've had your fair share of golfing, explore the outdoors with the many activities available around the area.
