

Blue Ridge Parkway “GOLF TRAIL”

There are more than 200 golf courses within the mountains of North Carolina and the Virginias, but only a few have earned the right to become charter members of the Blue Ridge Parkway Golf Trail. The 469-mile scenic Parkway follows closely the highest ridges between the Shenandoah and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. The scenery is spectacular along the way attaining an altitude of more than 6000 feet.

Primland Resort
Location near the Parkway is only one criterion for these selected courses. They have earned exceptional rankings with national golf publications, high marks with the best Carolina rating services, and a top level standing with an independent advisory board.

The Blue Ridge Parkway Golf Trail features courses with beautiful waterfalls, fishing streams winding through lush fairways, hiking trails, and boulders imbedded by Mother Nature much larger than your golf cart. Golfers from all over the country are expected to savor playing public and semi-private courses in higher elevations from Sequoyah National near Cherokee, North Carolina all the way to the northern end of the Parkway near Waynesboro, Virginia. Yes, this will be golf at a much higher level.

Listed among the best mountain golf courses:
Virginia: Highland Course at Primland and Cascades at the Omni Homestead Resort, Devils Knob and Stoney Creek at Wintergreen Resort.
North Carolina: Omni Grove Park Inn & Spa, Mount Mitchell Golf Club, Maggie Valley Golf and Country Club, and the Jackson course at Rock Barn Country Club and Spa.

Other North Carolina Parkway Golf Trail courses include:
Sequoyah National, Waynesville Inn Golf and Resort, Mountain Glen Golf Club, Boone Golf Club, Smoky Mountain Country Club, Black Mountain, Broadmoor

Maggie Valley Resort
